ASSERTS GOMPERS CAN'T SWING VOTE

P. J. Ryan Says Labor Head's Attempt to Boost Cox Will Have No Effect.

Any attempt on the part of Samuel Gompers, as president of the American Federation of Labor, to swing American organized labor to vote for Gov. Cox, the democratic nominee for President, will be a failure, in the opinion of P. J. Ryan, former editor of the "Plate Printer" and representative of the Central Labor Union of the District of Columbia.

"On any question relating strictly to labor union matters, Mr. Gompers would undoubtedly have strong support from organized labor, or a very large percentage of it," said Mr. Ryan today. "But when it comes to politics and international and foreign relations of the United States, that is another matter. The American laborer will use his own intelligence to pass upon such matters. He is intelligent enough and of as much intelligence as any other citizen, and quite capable of deciding such issues without the assistance of Mr. Gompers."

Discusses League Plank. "Gov. Cox, the democratic nominee, has come out for the league of nations as proposed by President Wilson. It is a mistake idea to believe that organized labor as a whole is in favor of the league of nations. Mr. Gompers succeeded in wrapping up the league of nations in the executive committee report submitted to the convention of the American Federation of Labor so closely that it was adopted along with the rest of the report which the democratic nominee as a whole—without being considered as a separate resolution.

He accomplished this end much as President Wilson accomplished his end when he had the league covenant written into the treaty at Versailles, so that the two could not be separated."

Cannot "Deliver" Vote. Mr. Ryan said that he did not think the recent statement issued by the "Union-Party" of President Wilson, P. O. L., comparing Senator Harding's record with that of Gov. Cox, and throwing the weight of its approval to Gov. Cox, which was signed by President Gompers and two other officials, would "deliver" the vote of organized labor to the democratic nominee, as a whole—without being considered as a separate resolution.

Mr. Ryan is vice president of the "Union-Party" of President Wilson, which is composed of democrats who are opposed to the league of nations and other policies of the democratic administration.
